● Topics

The 22nd IEEE International Conference on Nanotechnology (IEEE-NANO 2022) will be held from 4th to 8th of July, 2022, at the Auditorium of Palma, the capital of Balearic Islands, Spain.

IEEE-NANO is the flagship IEEE international conference on Nanotechnology, which has been a successful annual conference since 2001. Recent conferences were held in Montreal (2021), on-line (2020), Macau (2019), Cork (2018), Pittsburgh (2017), Sendai (2016), Rome (2015), and Toronto (2014).

The conference scope spans both nanoscience and nanotechnology including: Developing new nanomaterials matter and nanometre length scale, Studying the fundamental physical, chemical or biological properties of these nanomaterials and nanostructures, Manipulating nanomaterials and nanostructures to create nanosensors, nanoactuators and nanoelectronic/nanophotonic devices.

Contributions from both academic and industry-based researchers. Listed below the more specific topics that IEEE-NANO 2022 will focus on:

Nanorobotics and nanomanufacturing	Nano-Biomedicine
Nanofabrication	Nano-Optics, Nanophotonics and Nano-Optoelectronics
Spintronics	Nanoelectronics
Nanosensors and nanoactuators	Nano-materials
Nano-Metrology and Characterization	Modeling and Simulation
Nanopackaging	Nanomagnetics
Nano Energy, Environment and Safety	Nanoscale Communications
Nano-acoustic devices, Processes and Materials	Quantum, Neuromorphic, and Unconventional Computing
Emerging Plasma Nanotechnologies

● Authors

Authors are invited to submit 4-page papers for the Regular Paper Sessions and Special Sessions in PDF version, double column, IEEE format, with a minimum font size of 10 points on the symposium submission website. Author may choose to make submissions anonymous, although that is not mandatory. Accepted papers will be considered for IEEE NANO 2022 Best Paper Award, and the conference content will be submitted for inclusion into IEEE Xplore. After the conference, authors are invited to submit extended paper versions (containing at least 30% but preferably 50% new material), to pass the normal review process, for potential publication in an IEEE Transactions on Nanotechnology Special Section.
